

We are so excited to welcome you to season 11 from our new location at The Fort! The Fort is a gorgeous old building full of artists and creatives and we couldn't be happier to be among them. This season is all about community. As we move through challenging times, our community connections are what sustain us. We are honored to be collaborating with artists of many kinds as we present a series of workshops designed to foster connection, healing, and joy. Our two major productions, One Light and Sleeping Beauty, are also focused on bringing people together to celebrate all the things we have in common. We can't wait to create beauty with you this season!

In community,
Rachel Nace, Artistic Director
